HAL SELLS INTEREST IN LIVIT

HAL signed an agreement to sell its ownership interest in Orthopedie Investments Holding B.V. (“Livit”) to Ottobock SE & Co. KGaA (“Ottobock”). Livit manufactures and sells orthopedic and other medical aids to end-customers. Livit operates a network of specialized care centers and fitting locations throughout the Netherlands and was acquired by HAL in 2007. Ottobock is a global manufacturer and supplier of medical technology solutions for people with limited mobility in the fields of Prosthetics and NeuroMobility (Orthotics and Wheelchairs) and a leading international provider of Patient Care.

The completion of the transaction is subject to customary regulatory clearance and is expected to be completed within the next few months.
